

We have satellite radio in both of our cars and benefit from it greatly ... being able to listen to news, weather, and traffic easily from city to city without retuning the stations is an important feature as we travel. Living in a rural area, we have to cover large areas of geography so satellite radio is something we would not wish to be without.